

DALLAS

Brides

Return to ROMANCE

DREAMY DRESSES BY MARCHESA, VERA WANG AND MORE!

Exuberantly Spring: Glittering Gems, Classic Cakes, Bold Blooms

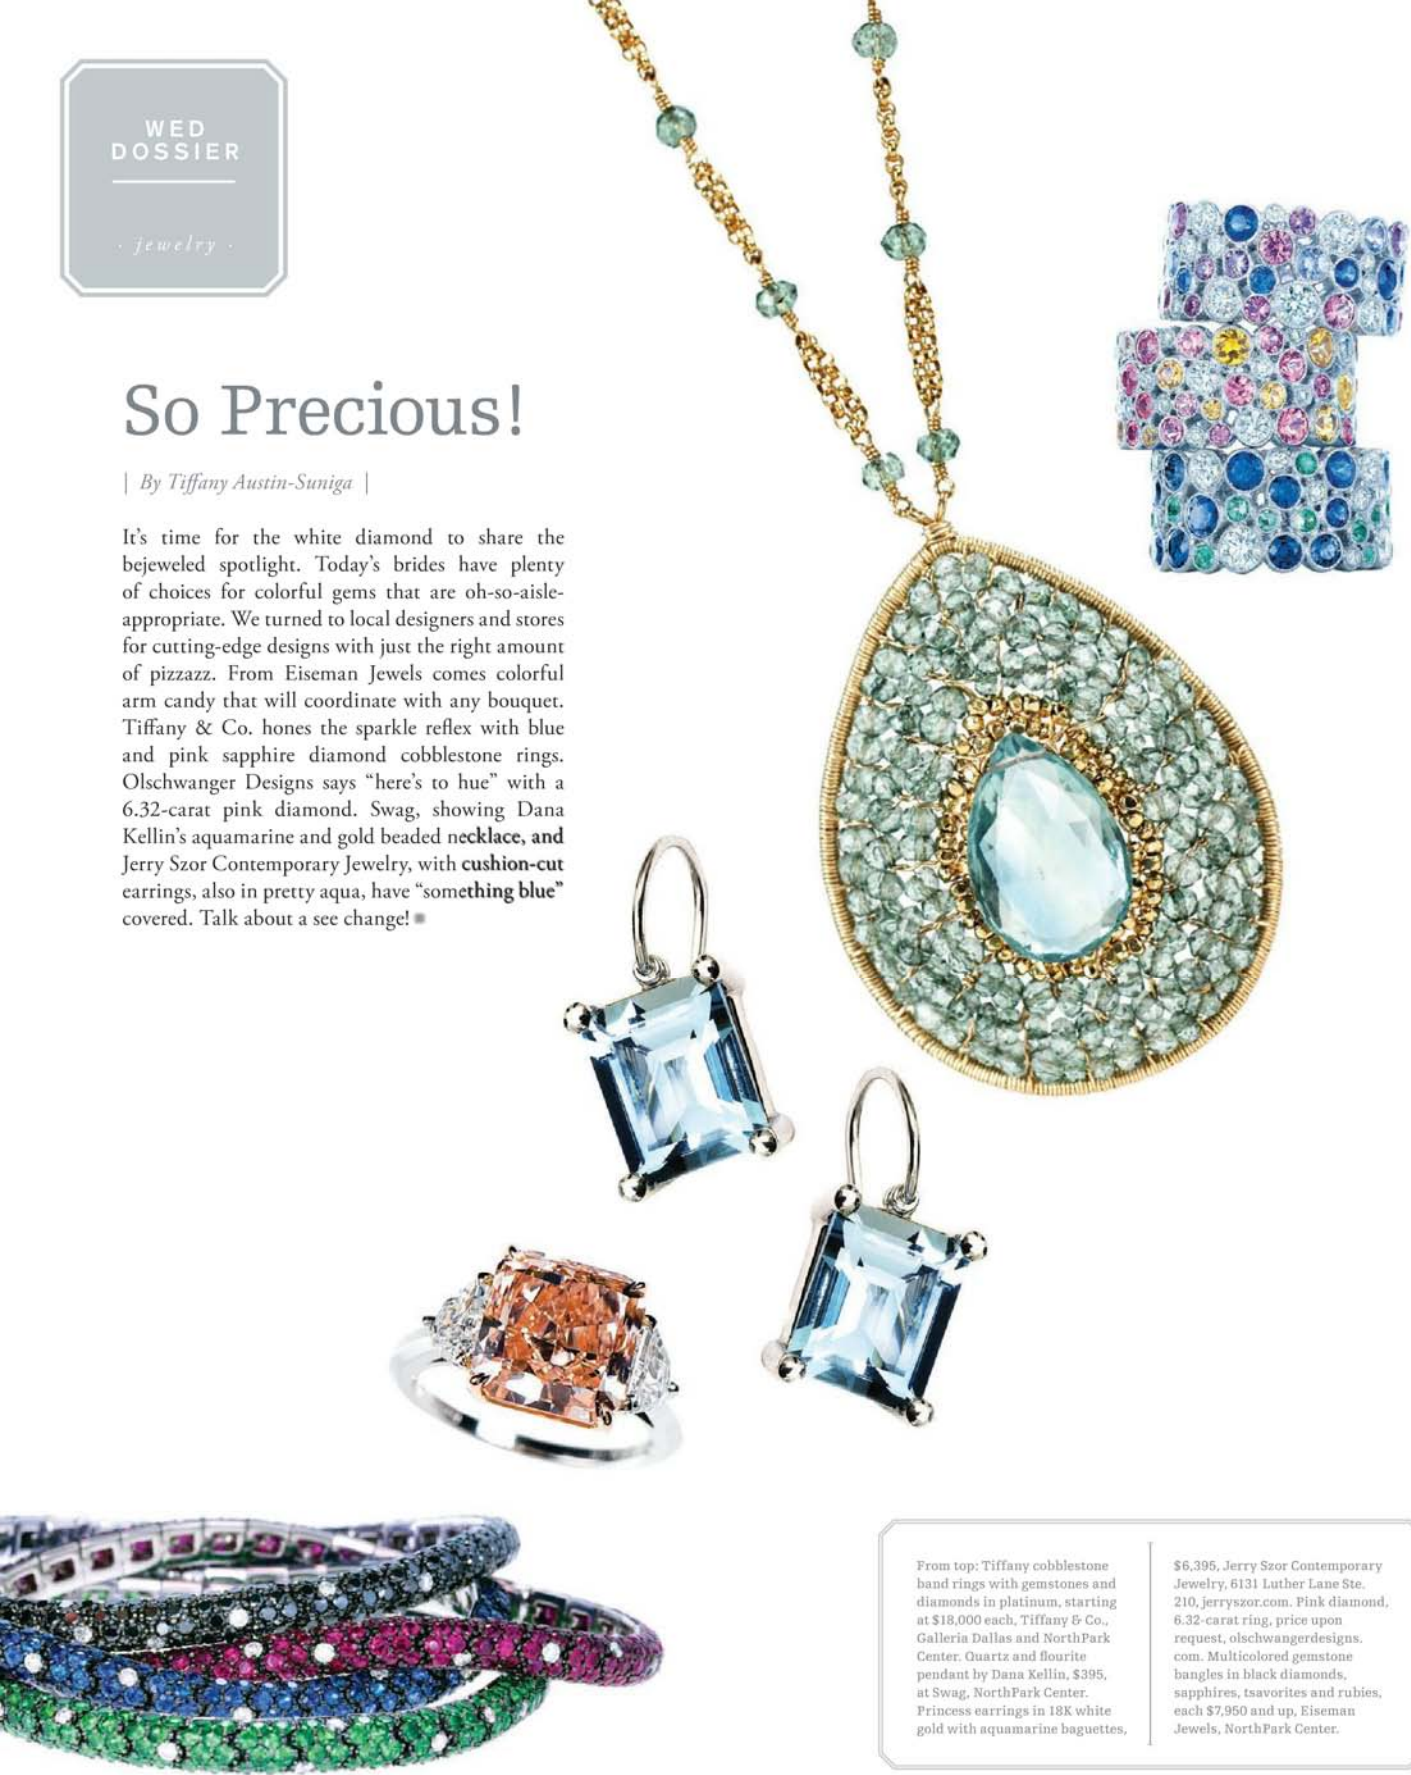

MARRIAGE MADE IN THE MALDIVES!

& All the Most Beautiful Weddings

So Precious!

| By Tiffany Austin-Suniga |

It's time for the white diamond to share the bejeweled spotlight. Today's brides have plenty of choices for colorful gems that are oh-so-aisle-appropriate. We turned to local designers and stores for cutting-edge designs with just the right amount of pizzazz. From Eiseman Jewels comes colorful arm candy that will coordinate with any bouquet. Tiffany & Co. hones the sparkle reflex with blue and pink sapphire diamond cobblestone rings. Olschwanger Designs says "here's to hue" with a 6.32-carat pink diamond. Swag, showing Dana Kellin's aquamarine and gold beaded necklace, and Jerry Szor Contemporary Jewelry, with cushion-cut earrings, also in pretty aqua, have "something blue" covered. Talk about a see change! ■

From top: Tiffany cobblestone band rings with gemstones and diamonds in platinum, starting at $18,000 each, Tiffany & Co., Galleria Dallas and NorthPark Center. Quartz and fluorite pendant by Dana Kellin, $395, at Swag, NorthPark Center. Princess earrings in 18K white gold with aquamarine baguettes, $6,395, Jerry Szor Contemporary Jewelry, 6131 Luther Lane Ste. 210, jerryszor.com. Pink diamond, 6.32-carat ring, price upon request, olschwangerdesigns.com. Multicolored gemstone bangles in black diamonds, sapphires, tsavorites and rubies, each $7,950 and up, Eiseman Jewels, NorthPark Center.